Cancer Crusade

"Cancer Progress Year" will be the banner under which a team of veteran campaigners will conduct the annual Cancer Crusade, jointly attacked a host of their industry's problems.

Matters of quality, pack, and quantity were considered — as were season, flow, supply, and demand. Research projects and plans for joint-produce advertising and promotions were put forward, all for celery.

Asking the Florida Department of Agriculture last fall for a marketing order, 95 per cent of the Florida celery growers felt that their whole production and sales system could be made more effective.

This year, he said, goal of the Crusade is highest in the county's history — $125,000 — reflecting a general boost through out the nation and in keeping with the Crusade slogan — "The Cure Mode, Give More."

Heading the Crusade in Belle Glade is a Purple Heart veteran of the Korean War—Lee L. Cranford, manager of the O. A. C. Finance Corp. The death of his mother, because of cancer, gives him a deep personal interest in the Crusade, Cranford said.

In addition to Belle Glade, Cranford will head up the drive in South Bay.

At Canal Point, another veteran Crusader will be directing the drive—Mrs. Ruby Tucker, who has previously served as a Crusade chairman.

In Palmetto, the Crusade will be headed by P. S. "Dick" Parrish, Glades business man who has before in the same assignment.

Masses said most of the community chairmen are now community chairmen who have been in the Crusade for a long time and are still engaged in recruiting volunteer workers. He said the crusade will be directed by their local chairmen and to sign up to help during the drive.

Better Celery
On More Tables
Grower Objective

Thanks to research, there's a new Florida celery, it's fast-tar and crisper.

Known as the Pascal 52-70 variety, it's proved an immediate winter with the budget-watching, calorie-conscious housewife. Housewives showed their preference for it over the older white varieties and production quickly zoomed.

Last year South Florida celery was a $14,000,000 industry in Florida. Bane of the business, however, was a recurrent period of overproduction, followed faithfully by a sagging northern market.

Growers took the challenge—and with their goal of a better celery on more tables more places—jointly attacked a host of their industry's problems.

Matters of quality, pack, and quantity were considered — as were season, flow, supply, and demand. Research projects and plans for joint-produce advertising and promotions were put forward, all for celery.

The celery growers have assigned themselves on a per crate basis to finance a "munch-more" promotional drive. Consequently, a better and more attractive pack of Florida celery is showing up in Chicago, New York, Detroit, Philadelphia, in small cities and north and east, as a result.

The drive is being directed by the Florida Celery Producers, which is one of the first state-administered marketing orders for Florida vegetables.

"It represents real progress toward orderly and efficient marketing," said Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, "and it should prove highly beneficial to the celery and producing industry of Florida."

Superior quality is stressed. Divisional offices of food chains and supermarkets are cooperating in posting colorful new in-store placards and banners, displaying new uses and the appealing qualities of Florida celery.

Massive displays of the crisp, crunchy stalks tempt the shopper.

Pretty, celery-minded female store demonstrators will also be used for in-store, point-of-sale promotion.

Hard-hitting sales efforts co-sponsored by the celery advisory committee, the Florida Department of Agriculture, and the Florida Development Commission have been termed also as encouraging by growers.

For Florida's celery industry, which reached a record high of $17,000,000 four years ago, it may well suggest "shades of better things to be."

Peak Florida production is January through May.

Everglades USDA Club Members Attend School

The Everglades USDA Club sponsored a Technical Writing Course March 12-16, 1962 which was held at Jameson Hall in Belle Glade by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Technical Writing Course.

This workshop was conducted by Ward W. Knoble, Publications Officer, and Donald V. Robertson, Writer, from the ARS Publications Section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The 18-hour refresher course was designed to improve methods of preparing technical and popular manuscripts for publication in USDA series, agency series, and outside journals.

Manuscript organization, writing the first draft, clarity in writing, how to prepare tables, writing summaries and abstracts, and good grammar principles — all were covered during the course.

Mr. Knoble, a farm-reared graduate of Purdue University of the University of Pittsburgh. In 1957 he joined ARS as a supervisory publications editor. Since 1958 he has been head of the Technical Publications Section; and, in addition, he is instructor and coordinator of the ARS training program in technical writing. Mr. Knoble has many years experience in teaching English, both expressed and written.

Wednesday, March 14, Mr. Knoble spoke at the USDA Club luncheon held at Ray's Smokehouse in South Bay. In his program, he presented an imaginary telephone conversation with a potential author. Mr. Knoble's sense of humor coupled with his mastery of the English language kept the group spellbound.

Mr. Robertson, born in the District of Columbia, is a graduate of the University of Maryland. He has been with ARS since 1958 as a writer in the popular publications section.

Mom can look at all the new gi-gadgets in a modern Florida home and learn to cook.

There will be 20 model homes with opportunity for at least twelve chances of opinion on any one item, be it floors, color, Florida Room, kitchen arrangement, dividers or telephone locations.

The show will open at 10:00 a. m. 'til 9 p. m. at Palm Beach Gardens, with admission free.

FHA is temporarily restricted in its function of long-term low-cost financing, considering it's mistakes, but there's financing through other sources, and you may learn about those also encouraging by growers.

Peak Florida production is January through May.

temperatures prevail in a great number of recently planted cane fields.

Resistance to cold as well as early maturity, and with a satisfactory (10%) sugar yield, are qualities asked for by Glades sugar producers at a recent meeting at which the Sugar Advisory Committee of the USDA. Those qualities are embodied in two new Canal Point varieties on which field experiments are reported by the US Sugar Experiment Station at Canal Point.

In three plant and four stubble experiments, C. P. 50-28 produced an average of 8,554 pounds of sugar from 47.54 tons of cane per acre, and C. P. 52-68 yielded 8,654 pounds of sugar from 44.31 tons of cane per acre. Comparably, CI 41-223, a standard commercial variety in current plantings, came up with 7,540 pounds of sugar from 34.62 tons per acre.

These canes were tested in the field at Okeelanta, through cooperative work of the Station and Okeelanta Station, though 50-28 was released for the Sellmore area.

B. A. Belcher and E. R. Rice of the Sugar Experiment Station have conducted the experiments outlined herein.

Rams Beat Stuart
5-4 In Last inning

After three fruitless years Homer Frasure finally has a batting average.

In the bottom of the seventh he won his own ball game with a double to right.

Frasure's double came with the score 4-2 in favor of Stuart.

DeWight Ward and Ken Martin had opened the inning with a pair of walks. After they had second and third Frasure drove in both runners. Trying for third, Frasure was out, a rope's length but jarred the ball, losing the winning team from the third baseman and scored before the third baseman could retrieve the ball.

Stuart left-handed Glenn Eckley limited the Rams to 3 hits. The other two were infield dribblers by Johnny Bass and Diddy Mills. Eckley struck out 11 Rams, but kept himself in trouble with 6 walks. Frasure also struck out 11 but walked none.

Stuart scored three of their runs in the third on a single, two Ram errors and Paul Funk's two run double.

The fourth run came when another pair of errors put Pete Valentino on third. Valentino surprised everybody by stealing home. That set the score at 4-2.

The Rams play Ft. Pierce at home Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the Census Bureau says the average income of a farmer from 1950 to 1951 was $1,750.

Now, I see in the paper that the average American farmer is about as long as for anybody else.

I ain't trying to ask no asparagus on the medical profession.

The only time I ever knock doctors is when I'm feeling real good. When I'm sick my doctor is about the finest feller in the world. I reckon that's human nature Mister Editor. And I reckon on that's why most of the time it takes the doctor longer to cure a rich man than a poor man just the human nature in him — the doctor, I mean.

When I get to advocating reform for doctors, lawyers, editors and some of them Congressmen, my old lady hints she knows a feller here at home that could stand a little reform. She always quotes that place in the Bible where the Lord told the Disciples to go out and preach the Gospel to all the world, starting in Jerusalem. "And the Lord," she adds, "was speaking of Jerusalem." But I never argue with my old lady. I just pass the butter please, and change the subject to the economical conditions in the Congo or some of them items women don't know enough about to argue.

Speaking of my old lady, she's out in the kitchen baking a cake for the church cake sale. Ed and I, when my old lady bakes

one for the sale, I buy it back and then she donates it to the school lunch room. I ain't the only one, Mister Editor, that needs for things to get started in the world.

And while I'm on the subject of women I'd like to pay my respects to that school teacher that keeps writing you about my little pie in the paper ever week I see in that last note she said you where she is claiming my grammar sets a bad example for the youth of the community.

First it was my spelling and now it's my grammar.

From what I see in the papers and magazines, Johnny can't read none too good anyhow and I doubt he'd be trying it out on my little pie. Actual, I don't use better grammar for about three reasons. In the first place

I don't know no better. In the second place, the fellers at the country store wouldn't understand it. And third, if I knew grammar real good they'd have me writing pamphlets for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Yours truly,

Uncle Dan

50th Anniversary

Dimes for Daisy
These are dimes which add up to dollars for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Fund honoring Juliette Low... Fund for fulfilling her dream of girls around the world becoming guides and Girl Scouts, and getting to know each other.

In the Palm-Glades district the Custard Apple Neighborhood is going to be the hostess to the Cypress Neighborhood for an annual Juliette Low Ingathering (a get-together between the Scouts of these two Neighborhoods to celebrate the 50th year of Girl Scouting). Each troop is to present their own Scout-Daisy contribution in a special ceremony in this round-up for International Friendship.

They are to meet jointly on Friday, March 30, 1962 from 4:30-8:00 p. m. at the Belle Glade Community Center. Each girl is to wear her uniform and bring a noisegun.

Games and songs will be shared with each troop during the afternoon and the highlights of the evening program will be the presentation of our Dimes-for-Daisy and a special film commemorating the 50 years of Scouting entitled "Something For the Girls."

Dimes from Girl Scouts all over the United States and in U. S. A. Troops on Foreign Soil... given each year which make up the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund for the following year's international projects.

In the Golden Anniversary Year, the Girl Scouts have a golden opportunity — with a special focus on Latin America — to share in important projects for building closer ties between the Girl Scouts of this country and Guides of Latin America.

These are some urgent needs that your dimes and dollars may help to meet:

- Wider exchange of ideas and skills between our members and Latin American Guides through visits and international gatherings.
- Girl Scout publications translated in Spanish for Guides. In many countries the girls have no handbooks and few other helps.
- Special assistants to promote and extend Guiding in Central America, South America, and the Caribbean area.
- International service projects of stimulate work with the handicapped and other need ed help which Guides and Girl Scouts can give to their communities.

Gifts to the Fund in the past have brought about successful round-the-world international projects. These should and will continue — projects such as the Juliette Low Sessions, camps and conferences abroad. Experiment in International Living events, visits of adult trainers and observers to many lands and the Thinking Day Fund gift which helps the World Association to strengthen the world wide movement.

We are making a special effort for every adult member to have the opportunity to contribute, link the Dimes-for-Daisy chain in our international friendship program, have Good Neighbor events and tell of our Latin American projects, and encouraging the girls to earn the dimes they are contributing. We are starting now to make DIMES grow for DAISY.

Church of Christ Invites You To Attend Services

Nineteen hundred and sixty-two years ago in the small rural town of Bethlehem man's Savior was born. Men went about their task making a living in much the same way as men of today, except in a more primitive atmosphere. The people of that time were apparently unaware of the magnificent gift of their Creator. With them there was only a curious attitude toward the Christ, and a willingness to let someone else present the gifts to Him.

Nearly two thousand years have gone by since The Savior of Man was born, yet millions of God's offspring have been lost. Why? It is because we don't realize how much God loves man! I can't begin to define the magnitude of a love that would cause God to give his only "begotten son" as a ransom for man's sin. I don't believe a sincere person can, or well, spurn his great love and say it was all in vain. The fact still remains that millions have gone into eternity without hope, and millions are lost today. Why? It is because the Bible is not an infallible guide? I am sure this is not the reason, yet millions are still lost. Why? When I was a boy living on the farm, I remember a beautiful place near our farm where a spring sent forth pure cool water. This was a favorite place with me during the hot summer days. This water was clear and uncontaminated, but as it flowed out and through the winding creek the cows and hogs would cross it until it became muddy. When I wanted a drink of water I would return to the original source (the spring) and quench my thirst without fear of disease from drinking contaminated water.

Could the reason that millions are lost today be because the pure religion of Christ has been flowed through the dogmas of denominationalism and become contaminated with the doctrines of men until honest people are confused and don't know what to believe? Let's apply the principle of the spring mentioned above. Let's bypass all the dogmas of denominationalism, the doctrines of men and go back to the original source of pure religion (Christ and the Bible) John 4:48 (Christ and the Bible) John 4:48

First Tim. 2:4-17, if we will follow a few simple steps outlined by Christ — such as, "Believe, Repent of sins, confess Christ and obey Christ by being baptized for the remission of sins." He will add us to the church. Then we are to live a clean moral life as Christians, serving and worshipping Him, and Heaven will be our home. May God bless you is our prayer.

We invite you to attend the services of the Belle Glade Church of Christ meeting at 125 N. W. Avenue D.

The class in Adult Education, English to Foreign born met on Wednesday nights at the High School. The last class period was particularly lively when the drill centered on "parts of the car."

Mrs. Francis Hutchinson was again in class after an absence of several weeks. Mrs. Hutchinson had gone for a brief visit to Puerto Rico on arrival there she received word of the serious illness of a grandson in Madrid, so she extended her travels to Spain. She reports that the grandson is fully recovered, and that the grandson, and his parents, have returned to Puerto Rico, where they will make their home.

Mr. Emilio Echave is the proud father of a son, born in Miami. This is the fourth child and the fifth child. Mr. Echave hopes to move his family to Belle Glade in the near future.

The following paragraphs were written by class members for use in this column.

I hope that pretty soon my mother and my sister will arrive in Miami. But after the Cubans have everything in order to leave Cuba, they need to wait for about three months for reservations by plane. My family still has about forty days; this is a hope to me, to see my mother and sister as soon as the time passes.

My sister, Concepcion Martinez, is an English teacher. She is a graduate of Havana University and of Michigan University.

I listened to the radio about the visit of President Kennedy to Miami. The Cuban people were waiting this moment because they wanted to ask him to help us please with arms and airplanes, to fight very hard in Cuba and down Fidel Castro and Communism; it was wonderful idea.

It is wonderful because in Cuba the honest people are dying every day.

—Mrs. Carmen Blanco

I came from Cuba last month. I live here in Belle Glade with my sister. I work at the BC Ranch with my brother-in-law. He is renting the ranch; he has many bulls, horses, and many things. I work on a tractor; I'm a tractorist man. My work is very hard, but I am very glad to work in this country. All the people are good neighbors, and good friends, too. I started to study this night in the High School of this country. My teacher reads the lesson and explains it very well, and the students understand her, too.

On Saturday, I went to the movies. The movie's name is the Drive-In. It is very big, many people go there in cars to see the pictures. I also go to the theater here in Belle Glade. This is a good theater. I saw a picture the night of Jerry Lewis. It was very good, and I laughed very much.

—Carlos Alvarez

I feel very sad about the fact that I am not able to help the many people who are desirous of leaving Cuba, but do not have a permit to leave, or any persons who are able to offer the hand to help them to leave from their environment where today they suffer. I pray that the Americans, with God's help, will see, one day not too far off, Cuba happy and free of this bad hot-bed which is called Communism.

—Mrs. G. Cedeno

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall, cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps proving truck life.

See your Chevrolet dealer for a quality '62 Chevrolet jobmaster truck.

"Automotive Market Reports" is a weekly authoritative wholesale publication which reports the average prices paid for used trucks and cars by professional buyers at auctions all over the U.S.

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?
